

North High Plans Benefit Program

The Four Preps, popular Capitol Recording Artists, will star in a special evening benefit program for band uniforms and choir robes January 24 at North High school in the school gymnasium.

Also starring in this show will be Bob Roberts, nationally famous drum major along with the Accents, a rising vocal group.

Accompaniment will be provided by the Harbor Lights, a popular dance orchestra.

Tickets are on sale for $1.50 and may be purchased from band and choir members, also members of the class councils. Tickets will be on sale at the door. Doors open before 8:30 p.m., and the general public is invited to attend.

"YOU TWO ARE NOT going to play cards now," says Ed Seani to Kay Kellogg and Marie Denn. This has nothing to do with the poker club reactions in Hermosa, but instead is a scene from that laugh riot, "Light Up the Sky," now playing at the Hermosa Beach Playhouse. Tickets, which will be literally unavailable in a matter of days can be obtained by calling the Hermosa Beach Playhouse. The play is presented on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, curtain time, 8:30.

Five Youths Join Navy

Five Torrance youths enlisted in the Navy and are now in training. Navy Recruiter F. D. Fields announced this week. Fields also declared a "Join Navy Day," set for January 29 to permit Torrance men to enlist together and go through training as a team.

Fields said, "My quota is up 400 percent this month and I can now enlist any qualified man and let him pick the day he wants to go."

The five Torrance men enlisted since January 3 are:

Charles Nance, Aviation Machinist Mate Second Class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Nance of 2480 W. 237 Street. Nance is at the Naval Station in Long Beach, awaiting orders to Advanced Machinist Mate School.

James Hruza of 1626 W. 209 St., was enlisted as an Electronics Field Seaman, and is also at the Naval Station in Long Beach awaiting orders to one of the Navy's Electronics schools.

Ramon Jones, twin brother of Royce Jones, Airman Apprentice, who enlisted in October and is now undergoing Recruit Training at San Diego, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Jones of 1022 W. 210 St. Ramon enlisted as an Airman Recruit and after training he will join a Navy Aviation Unit.

Donald Schulman, a graduate of Torrance High School, enlisted as a High School Seaman recruit and after training will attend a Navy Specialist School. Donald's parents Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Schulman live at 1815 Sante Fe ave.

Larry Coon, graduate of Torrance High School is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Coon of 2427 Andree ave. He enlisted as an Electronics Field Seaman recruit and will attend one of the Navy's Electronic Schools after training at San Diego.

Fields said the Navy has a lot to offer a qualified young man and also the veteran of not only the Navy but the other Armed Services. "I enjoy meeting the applicants, their parents and friends in person, but if they can't stop by the station at 16422 S. Vermont, I'll be glad to answer any questions they might have via telephone," he said.

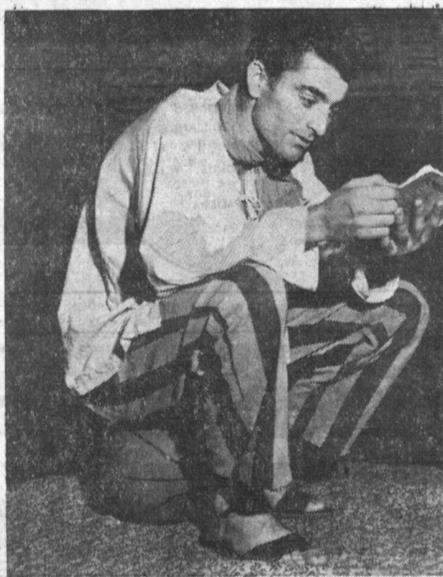

Fields also mentioned the promotion of its somewhat prosaic commodities with some interesting ideas, fresh layouts and fast moving copy; it has, in most instances, put the proof-of-performance into customers' words.

Columbia-Geneva Ad Manager Wins Magazine Award

Robert G. Hill, Advertising Manager for Columbia-Geneva Steel Division of United States Steel, has been named "Industrial Advertising's Man-of-the-Year" for 1957, the first West Coast adman to be selected for the award in the 21 years of the competition.

He was chosen for the honor by Industrial Marketing, Chicago, national magazine covering the industrial advertising and selling field.

The "Copy Chasers," anonymous critics of industrial advertising who write a monthly feature in Industrial Marketing, actually pick the man who is given the award as Adman-of-the-Year. In their column in the January issue of the magazine, which described Columbia-Geneva's advertising and told why Hill was picked for the honor, the Copy Chasers said: "Columbia-Geneva has en-

"TIME OUT" from basketball, his first love, is observed by Tony Castano, who studies the script for "My Three Angels," which will open in the Campus Theater of El Camino College tomorrow night at 8:30 p.m.

From Basketball to Acting Is Long Jump for Castano

Basketball has lost, and the theater apparently won, the heart of Tony Castano, who plays Jules, one of the three convicts in "My Three Angels," the Sam and Bella Spewack comedy, opening at Campus Theater at 8:30 tomorrow night but it was a hard-fought battle.

Castano graduated from Redondo Union High School with basketball his one love and playacting just something for his spare time. At El Camino he entered as a theater arts major, and worked in some one-acts because he hadn't quite made the varsity five. During his second year, he made the varsity and concentrated happily on baskets, finding spare time to play Dr. Gagnon in "The Happy Time."

By the fall of 1956, Castano's interest in basketball had weakened, and he derived great satisfaction in playing Benedict in "Much Ado About Nothing." Cast as Speedy Valenti in the 1957 spring musical, "Wonderful Town," the athlete-turned-theaterman completely forgot basketball.

The first two weeks of the fall '57 semester Tony spent at Pasadena Community Playhouse school of the theater. When he discovered that the school was not an accredited college, he returned to El Camino for a limited program. He plans to enter U.C.L.A. in the spring of 1958.

Tickets for the four 8:30 p.m. performances of "My Three Angels" may be secured at the college bookstore. Should seats for any of the performances be unreserved, tickets will be available at the Campus Theater box office on the evening of the production.

Applications will be received for managers and coaches of the Harbor City Little League until February 15, 1958, the executive board voted last week.
